

Philadelphia Writing Desk

(83-840)

Width: 59.75" (152 cm) Depth: 29.5" (75 cm) Height: 30.25" (77 cm) This desk is adapted from the original sewing table, made in Philadelphia circa 1805 and displayed in the Blue Room. The kidney-shaped top features elaborate Satinwood with contrasting Mahogany. The desk also features Walnut and Santos Rosewood veneers. The center section comes standard with a leather surface for writing. There is a center drawer which conforms to the aprons that are surrounded by a geometric inlay. The elegant legs are reeded, turned, and hand carved at the top.

As Shown: Finished in Natural (74)
